@ukedchat @CareersDefender Children of every age should be told where their learning leads to. Tell them why it relates to the real world.

Kenny Bosch @kennybosch

In U.S. we are talking about PSHE but we call it "Soft Skills." It is not a part of our curriculum but it is very important. #ukedchat

Dan Haesler @danhaesler

Q.1 - What are some of the challenges you face in teaching PSHE? #ukedchat

Janet Colledge @CareersDefender

I think the fact lots of teachers don't feel confident teaching pshe or careers makes it low priority to non specialists #ukedchat 1/2

The Hectic Teacher @HecticTeacher

#ukedchat I have found a project based approach works well to incorporate the PSHE and citizenship POS together as we teach both together.

Eylan Ezekiel @eylanezekiel

#ukedchat PSHE is not the place to try to solve all social problems. And 'careers' is not something that can be taught.

Janet Colledge @CareersDefender

That often leads to poor quality delivery and apathy. 2/2 #ukedchat

Citizenship F'dation @citizenship

I'm seeing PSHE and citizenship being fused here. We see them as different things - crudely: personal and public, respectively #ukedchat

The Hectic Teacher @HecticTeacher

@danhaesler @ukedchat Other teachers thinking you can make it up as you go along as "it's only PSHE" #ukedchat

Chris Davies @CDaviesTeacher

#ukedchat PSHCE should be, in my opinion, in everything we do; infused in every lesson. To 'teach' it discretely is missing the point IMO

Citizenship F'dation @citizenship

@danhaesler We'd say citizenship learning has to be active & engaged, but there is also a strong body of knowledge underpinning it #ukedchat

Abi @abikking

#ukedchat CPD for staff teaching PSHE / Citizenship is essential so delivery is high quality, teachers need to believe in importance
